NWS

KNOWLEDGE • WISDOM • COURAGE

Healthy Planet Primary

RAJDHANI YUVA SANSAD

IDEAS IN ACTION SUMMIT 1.0

First Edition

The First Edition of Ideas in Action Summit 1.0 (IAS 1.0), organised by Rajdhani Yuva Sansad, was held from 31st August to 1st September 2024 at Nehru World School in Shastri Nagar, Ghaziabad. The event brought together a diverse group of students, educators, and professionals to engage in a series of dynamic debates and discussions, centered around pressing global and national issues. The venue, Nehru World School, provided an inspiring and conducive environment for the participants to immerse themselves in the world of diplomacy, policy-making, and leadership, making the summit a landmark event in the academic calendar.

OPENING CEREMONY

The Ideas in Action Summit 1.0 (IAS 1.0) commenced with an atmosphere of excitement and anticipation as students, educators, and distinguished guests gathered at Nehru World School. The opening ceremony began with the ceremonial welcoming of the Co-Founders of Rajdhani Yuva Sansad, Adv. Isha Kapoor and Adv. Jai Saini, along with their core team and the esteemed Executive Board Members. Each guest was honoured with a sapling, symbolising growth, sustainability, and the nurturing of ideas, aligning with the core values of the summit.

Adv. Isha Kapoor and Adv. Jai Saini addressed the enthusiastic crowd, sharing their vision for the summit and providing valuable insights on how students could maximize this unique opportunity. They emphasized the importance of active participation, critical thinking, and collaboration in shaping the future leaders of tomorrow. Their speeches resonated deeply with the young delegates, motivating them to engage fully in the conference.

Following the Co-Founders' speeches, the audience rose for the National Anthem, instilling a sense of pride and unity among the participants. The ceremony set a strong foundation for the two-day event, which saw an impressive turnout of over 300 students and executive members from various institutions.

The summit featured five committees, each focusing on critical global and national issues: the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA), Lok Sabha, Historic Stakeholders' Meet (HSM), Marvel, and the International Press (IP).

LOK SABHA

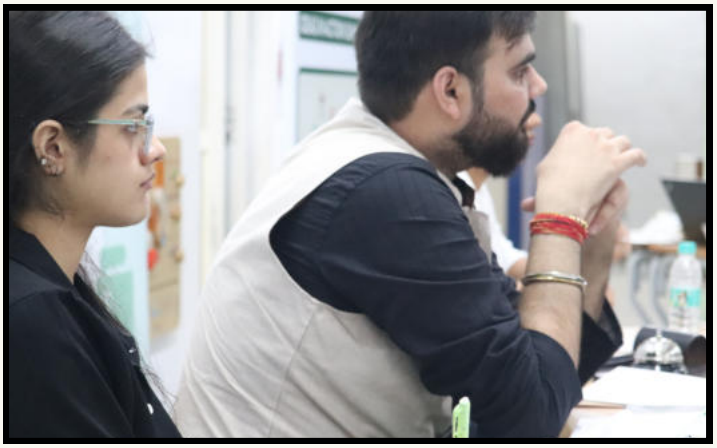
During the Lok Sabha session at the Ideas in Action Summit, a sudden crisis emerged as rumours spread that a ban on polygamy, with retrospective effect, would soon be enforced following the committee's discussions on the Uniform Civil Code. This information led to widespread riots, arson, and social unrest across the nation.

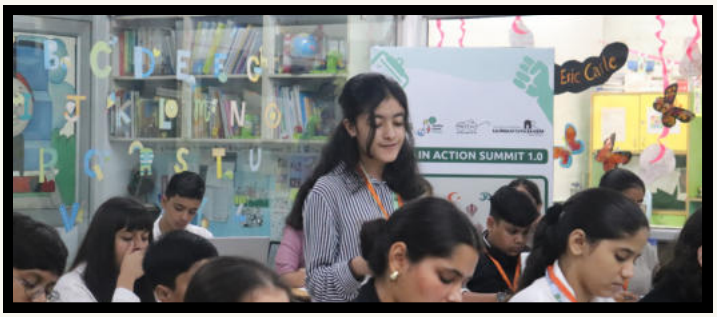
The press members made an official announcement, sparking an urgent short period of discussion to address the chaos. Participants swiftly debated the implications of such a decision, navigating the tension and panic stirred by the information.

This crisis highlighted the critical role of responsible communication and how quickly misinformation can spiral into national instability, offering participants a challenging and dynamic simulation of real-world legislative pressures.

At the Ideas in Action Summit, the Lok Sabha committee engaged in a spirited debate on the agenda of the Uniform Civil Code, with a special reference to the right to practice, profess, and propagate religion. The committee, chaired by Advocate Neeraj Dubey as Speaker, with Jasleen Singh Hitkari as Deputy Speaker and Ananya Kohli as Scribe, saw participants assume the roles of parliamentarians, diving deep into this critical issue.

The debate touched upon the complexities of balancing the proposed Uniform Civil Code with religious freedoms enshrined in the Constitution. Participants debated passionately, with arguments reflecting both the legal and social perspectives on the matter. The session proved to be an intellectual battleground, pushing attendees to think critically and holistically about the future of religious rights and legal uniformity in India.





UNGA

At the Ideas in Action Summit, the UN General Assembly (UNGA) committee faced a major crisis when terrorists disguised as Africans captured the UN headquarters and abducted the Chairperson. This shocking event led to an urgent and intense session within the committee.

The crisis prompted an immediate debating session where delegates had to address the unfolding situation and coordinate a response. Amidst the chaos, the Chairperson successfully declared herself safe, and the committee's efforts led to the capture and presentation of the responsible terror group.

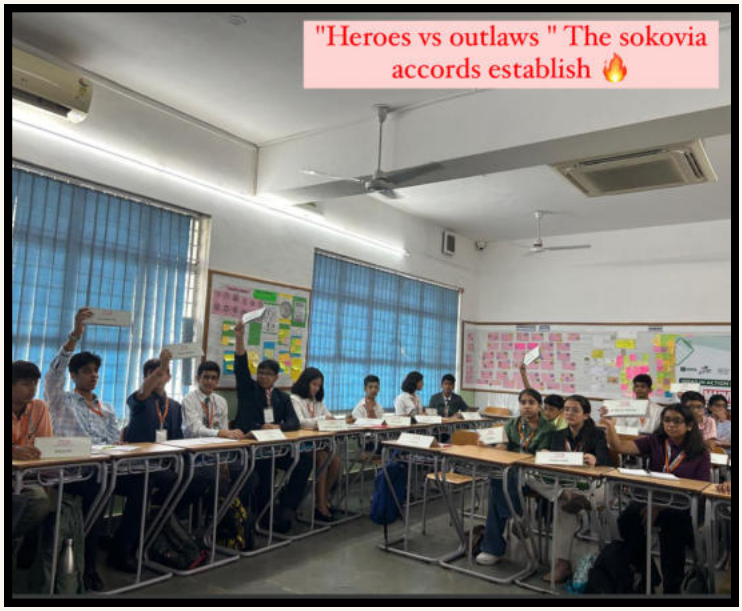
With the terrorists apprehended and the Chairperson secure, the situation was brought under control, restoring a sense of stability and peace. This crisis highlighted the challenges of global security and the importance of swift, effective action in maintaining international order.

The United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) committee delved into the humanitarian crisis in Gaza caused by the ongoing Israel-Hamas war.Participants, representing various countries, engaged in an intense debate on the devastating impact of the conflict and the urgent need for international intervention.

Chaired by Nnyra Chaturvedi, with Samresh Mahapatra as Co-Chairperson and Simran Kaur as Scribe, the session focused on the humanitarian toll, including the rising civilian casualties and the destruction of essential infrastructure. Delegates passionately discussed the need for immediate humanitarian aid, ceasefire agreements, and diplomatic efforts to ease tensions and bring relief to the affected population.

The delegates performed phenomenally, delivering well-researched arguments and offering innovative solutions. Their commitment to addressing the crisis highlighted the importance of global cooperation in mitigating the fallout from such conflicts. This session provided a platform for in-depth analysis and potential pathways to peace, making it a critical part of the summit's discussions.

MARVEL



The session took a thrilling and imaginative turn when Thanos, the infamous villain, appeared and threatened to wipe out the entire committee.

Thanos' dramatic entrance and his subsequent kidnapping of Iron Man, Thor, and other Avengers introduced a playful crisis, creating a high-stakes adventure that captured the participants' attention. The Avengers' eventual escape added a dynamic and engaging element to the proceedings.

While the fun scenario provided an entertaining break, it also reinforced the real-life significance of the Sokovia Accords. By incorporating this imaginative twist, participants gained a deeper understanding of the complex issues surrounding superhuman regulation, such as balancing freedom and accountability, in a memorable and impactful way. The session effectively combined entertainment with serious discussion, demonstrating the importance of creative approaches in tackling real-world issues.

In a thrilling session at the Ideas in Action Summit, the Marvel committee brought a unique twist to international diplomacy by having students assume the roles of superhumans—both heroes and villains. The committee focused on the signing of the Sokovia Accords and the punishment for superhuman activities.

Chaired by Sudiksha Chauhan, with Kanav Sharma and Shreya Kapoor as Scribes, the session saw participants engage in dynamic debates on the regulation of superhuman activities and the implications of the Sokovia Accords. Delegates passionately argued over the balance between freedom and accountability for those with extraordinary abilities, exploring the legal and ethical dimensions of their actions.

The participants delivered exceptional performances, embodying their roles with intensity and insight. Their debates not only entertained but also provided a thought-provoking look at the challenges of governing superhuman conduct, reflecting the imaginative and complex nature of the Marvel universe.

A crisis occured in the committee when the imposition of emergency got, announced without consulting the cabinet, led to widespread turmoil.

In the simulation, various opposition leaders were arrested and imprisoned, sparking significant unrest. The arrest of these leaders led to vigorous protests against what was perceived as illegal detention and a denial of fundamental rights. The situation intensified as letters were sent from the jailed leaders, describing the harsh and cruel conditions they faced, which further fueled the crisis.

This part of the session proved to be the most exciting, offering participants a dramatic and immersive experience of the political and social upheaval during the Emergency. The crisis underscored the tensions and challenges, enriching the participants' understanding of the complexities of governance and civil liberties.

HISTORIC STAKEHOLDERS MEET

At the Ideas in Action Summit, the Historic Stakeholders Meet featured a compelling discussion on the 1975 Emergency in India, with a specific focus on the events of June 25, 1975. Participants assumed the roles of prominent historical leaders to engage in a thorough deliberation of this pivotal moment in history.

The session was chaired by Gaurav Sharma as Moderator, with Karhtik Mohantay serving as Deputy Moderator and Vansh Gupta as Scribe. Under their guidance, the committee explored the political, social, and legal ramifications of the Emergency, debating the actions taken by the government and the impact on Indian democracy.

Participants brought historical figures to life, presenting their perspectives on the controversial decision to declare a state of emergency, the suspension of civil liberties, and the subsequent political and social consequences. The engaging debates allowed for a deep exploration of this critical period, providing insights into the challenges faced by the nation during that turbulent time.

The committee's discussions offered a rich, immersive experience, enhancing participants' understanding of the complexities and significance of the Emergency while reflecting on its lasting effects on Indian history.

THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS

The International Press Committee, headed by Mr. Jatin Kapoor as Manager of IP, with Ms. Nimisha Pathak serving as Editor-in-Chief and Ms. Sara Sirohi and Ms. Divya Kishore as Rapporteurs, delivered exceptional and comprehensive coverage of the conference.

Photojournalists captured vivid images of key moments, while journalists provided in-depth reports and analyses. Memers added humor and relatability, vloggers offered dynamic, real-time updates, and cartoonists provided creative visual commentary.

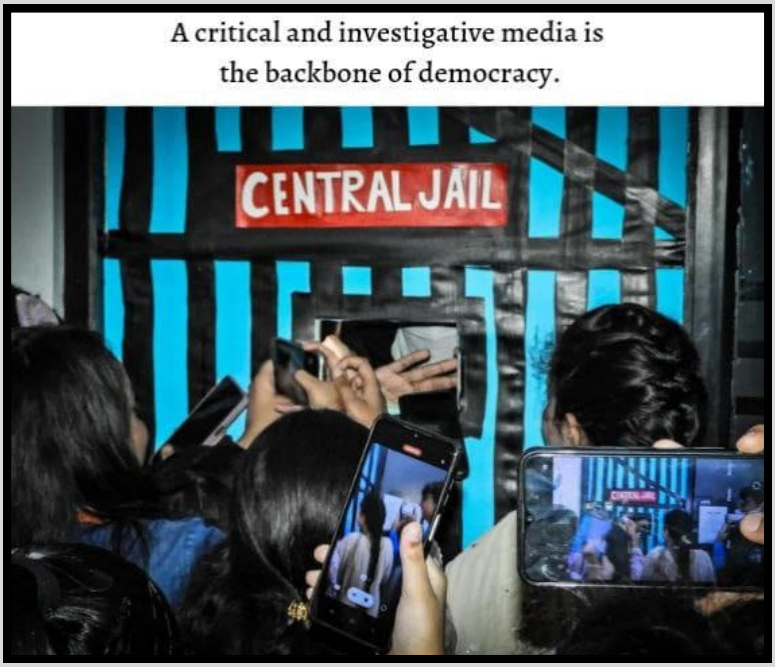
Their meticulous documentation of the sessions and their ability to capture the essence of the conference ensured that no significant moment was missed. The press team's insightful interviews and detailed reports not only provided clarity and context but also engaged a broader audience with the conference's highlights.

Their performance at the summit was a testament to their dedication and skill, significantly contributing to the success of the event.

Press members also conducted press conferences across the committees, providing essential updates and facilitating the smooth flow of information throughout the Ideas in Action Summit. They played a key role in introducing and covering the crises, ensuring that the dramatic developments were documented effectively.

Their work was crucial in presenting the unfolding scenarios and discussions in an engaging manner, keeping the audience well-informed.

Despite several instances where press freedom was restricted, the committee members handled these challenges with grace and professionalism. Their ability to adapt and maintain journalistic integrity under pressure highlighted the core values of leadership and governance. The press committee's exceptional performance demonstrated their commitment to delivering accurate and impactful coverage, contributing significantly to the overall success of the summit.



THE SECRETARIAT

SECRETARY GENERAL

DEPUTY SECRETARY GENERAL

USG HOSPITALITY